Background

The main mandate of the United Nations Human Settlements Programme (UN-Habitat) is to promote sustainable development of human settlements and policies conducive to adequate housing for all. Within this framework, UN-Habitat supports central and state governments, as well as local authorities and other partners for the implementation of the Habitat Agenda, the 2030 Agenda with the Sustainable Development Goals and the New Urban Agenda.

UN-Habitat helps the urban poor by transforming cities into safer, more inclusive, compact, integrated, resilient and connected places with better opportunities where everyone can live with dignity. It works with organizations at every level, including all spheres of government, civil society, and the private sector to help build, manage, plan and finance sustainable urban development.

The Regional Office for Latin American and the Caribbean – ROLAC – is based in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The Agency puts emphasis in developing and managing activities in the host country. Indeed, for the past years, UN-Habitat has expanded its portfolio in Brazil by working with the three tiers of government to support the formulation and implementation of more effective, sustainable, participative, and socially fairer urban economic, social, and environmental policies.

Since 2024, UN-Habitat has been developing a project with the State Government of Rio de Janeiro (Governo do Estado do Rio de Janeiro) through the Subsecretariat of Water Resources and Environmental Sustainability that aims to strengthen urban resilience in the State of Rio de Janeiro based on the implementation of the 2030 Agenda and the New Urban Agenda principles.

The project will help the State to achieve urban prosperity while implementing global sustainable urban development agendas. In particular, the proposal focuses on: expanding the engagement of the State's Direct and Indirect Administration in accelerating the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals, complementing the Fluminense Government's global call to action - Rio2030, and the establishment of a culture of sustainability in the State of Rio de Janeiro that contributes to increasing its urban resilience through the development of disaster prevention and mitigation actions and the engagement of local youth.
